The conference will take place on 20th -21st December at Bangkok, Thailand will help all researchers (both inexperienced and veteran) to present their findings to the esteemed members of the global scientific community, irrespective of the specific field of Management, Education and Social Sciences, they practice in. ICEMSS will not only help them earn the requisite exposure they need for recognition for their research work in global research circles, but also open the door for new opportunities for collaboration and further research.

This conference will be attended by participants of Bangkok, Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, India and Vietnam.

Theme of the Conference:

“Exploring insights of recent developments in Management and Social Sciences”

Objective of the Conference

The objectives of an International Conference on Management and Social Sciences are multifaceted, aiming to bring together experts, scholars, researchers, and practitioners to engage in discussions, share knowledge, and contribute to advancements in the fields of management and social sciences. Here are some key objectives:

- Knowledge Sharing and Dissemination: Facilitate the dissemination of cutting-edge research, theoretical frameworks, and practical insights in the fields of management and social sciences.
- Interdisciplinary Collaboration: Encourage interdisciplinary collaboration between management and social sciences, recognizing the interconnectedness of these fields and fostering a holistic understanding of societal and organizational dynamics.
- Research Presentation and Publication: Provide a platform for researchers to present their findings, exchange ideas, and discuss the latest developments, with opportunities for publication in conference proceedings or affiliated journals.
- Networking and Professional Development: Foster networking opportunities, enabling participants to establish connections, build collaborations, and enhance their professional development in the areas of management and social sciences.
- Ethical Considerations: Address ethical considerations in both management practices and social sciences research, promoting responsible and sustainable approaches to organizational and societal challenges.

- Community Engagement and Social Responsibility: Discuss the role of management and social sciences in community development, social responsibility, and sustainable practices, emphasizing the broader impact of academic research and managerial decisions.
- Educational Practices: Share insights into effective teaching methodologies and educational practices in the fields of management and social sciences, contributing to the improvement of academic programs and curricula.

Why Choose us

1. Expertise in Research: The combination of management and social sciences in one conference provides a platform for interdisciplinary discussions. This can lead to a more comprehensive understanding of complex issues by integrating perspectives from both fields.

2. Network and Collaboration: Conferences bring together professionals, academics, and researchers from various backgrounds. Attending the International Conference on Management and Social Sciences can provide ample networking opportunities to connect with individuals who share interests in both management and social sciences.

3. Diverse Range of Topics: The inclusion of both management and social sciences broadens the scope of topics covered at the conference. This diversity allows for a wide range of presentations and discussions, catering to a broader audience.

4. Holistic Problem-Solving: : Many real-world challenges require a holistic approach that considers both organizational management and societal implications. This conference can facilitate discussions on how these two domains intersect and contribute to comprehensive problem-solving.

5. Knowledge Integration: Participants can gain insights into how management practices intersect with social, cultural, and economic factors. This integration of knowledge can lead to innovative solutions and a deeper understanding of the implications of management decisions on society.

6. Publication Opportunities: : Conferences often provide opportunities for participants to publish their research. The International Conference on Management and Social Sciences may offer avenues for researchers to disseminate their work in journals that cater to both disciplines.

7. Global Perspectives: By focusing on international aspects, this conference may attract participants and presenters from around the world, providing a global perspective on management and social science issues.

About Bangkok

Bangkok, Thailand's capital, is a large city known for ornate shrines and vibrant street life. The boat-filled Chao Phraya River feeds its network of canals, flowing past the Rattanakosin royal district, home to opulent Grand Palace and its sacred Wat Phra Kaew Temple. Nearby is Wat Pho Temple with an enormous reclining Buddha and, on the opposite shore, Wat Arun Temple with its steep steps and Khmer-style spire.
